The Burns Supper celebrates, in words and music, the immortal memory of Robert Burns and Scotland's heritage.

The first recorded Burns celebration was held in 1801, when a group of his good friends gathered – and so was born the legendary Burns Supper.

One of the evening's features is "Piping in The Haggis". With full fanfare, the piper announces the arrival of the Haggis leading a procession comprising the chef, the orator and the whisky bearers in the presenting of the Haggis. After circling the room in order that all assembled guests may see the magnificent Haggis, it then is placed in position ready to be "Addressed".

Our orator is Dougal Munro, well known for his resounding and animated recital of Burns' "Address To A Haggis". At the appropriate time, during the line "An cut you up wi ready slight", with a flourish Dougal will take his dirk and pierce the Haggis, concluding with "Gie her a Haggis!".

The evening will begin with a Reception and Whisky Tasting presented by William Grant and Sons, Inc., featuring The Balvenie and Glenfiddich single malt whiskies. William Grant & Sons, of the small highland village of Dufftown, Scotland, distills some of the world's leading brands of Scotch whisky. Glenfiddich is the world's most awarded single malt.

Entertainment will include musical entertainment and guest artists. The evening will conclude with reels and dancing.

Burns is regarded as the national poet of Scotland and last year was voted "The Most Important Scot" by the people of Scotland. Robert Burns was born on January 25th, 1759 and died on July 21, 1796 at the age of 37.
